How would you describe South Silver Spring?

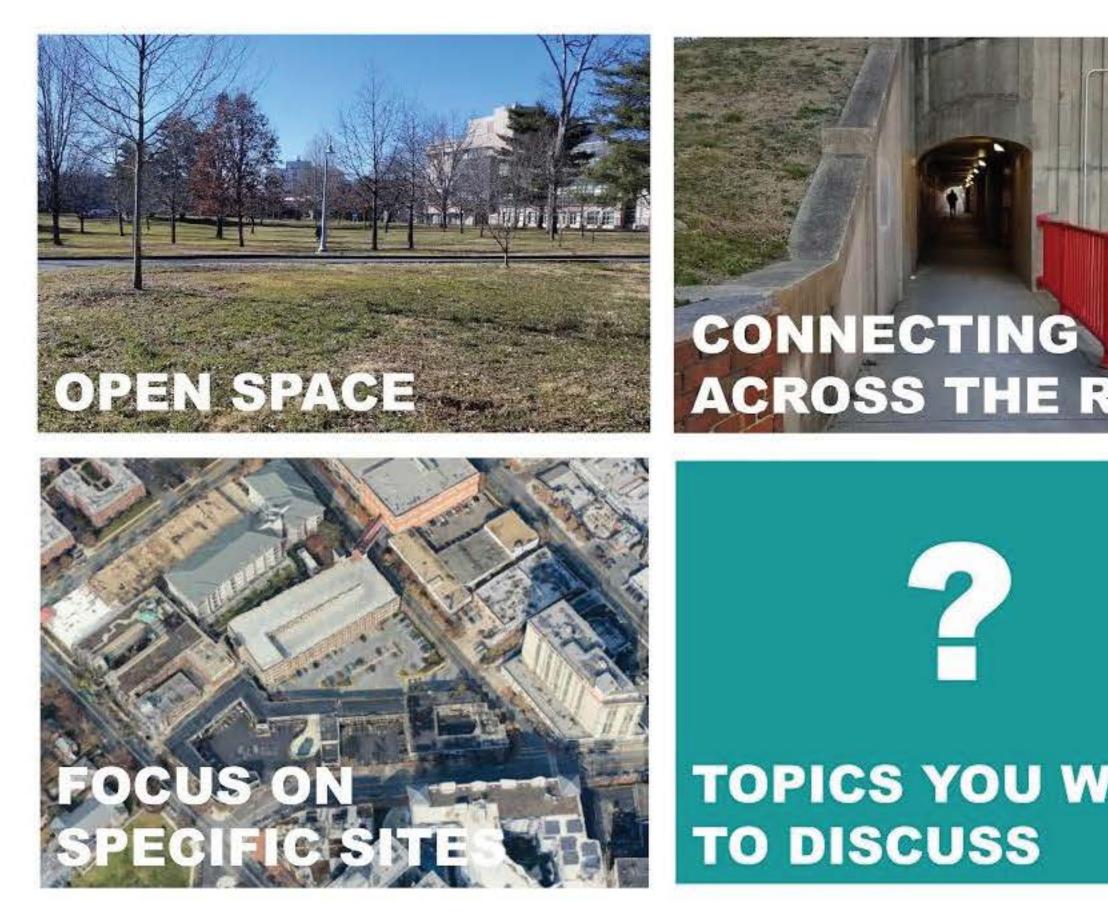

Disconnected - Only access on Georgia or Colesville to the rest of DTSS	Lack of outside park space	Commercial area	Not easily accessible, difficult parking, intimidating at night.	Lively when given the opportunity to congregate or recreate - I.e. Newell St. Closure, Food Trucks,
Train (divides South Silver Spring)	Looks tired	Love Love Love the Expanded Acorn Park	diverse, active, convenient, fun, good place to live, walkable	"on the other side of the tracks", have to run a guantiet to go through to the commercial area
Residential	Apartments, stores, busy streets	Lots of dogs	often ignored by the redshirts and the police in terms of patrolling.

certainly has some "holes" that need to be filled in. (the motel and that giant 7-Eleven gas station, for example. My favorite places like Bump n' grind, Denizens. walkable!

More homeless, drugs, loud, more graffiti, lack of green space, growing dog population.

Where would you like to see more open space?

Expand acorn park even more	Be inspired by Kennedy Rec Center in Shaw, DC for an urban park	Tie existing pocket parks and spaces together (visually and programmatically)
I wouldn't be looking to create a new park, because I think housing is needed more, but am very excited about improving and making better the parks we have	Improve Jessup Blair connetivity	Make better use of space near NOAA fountains
Make it easier to gather (tables, benches). Add places for food trucks (Blair park food trucks?)	Public space for games (table and lawn games)

POPS: Do you use these public spaces?

I love the appearance of the new benches at metro plaza, I wonder if a similar approach with multi-layered benches could work in front of the veridian kids love to play and skateboard in front of the silverton, you always see chalking on the sidewalk just saw the new design near Silver Branch the other day and it is so lovely. made me want to hang out there Yes - south silver spring block party. Opportunity for more usage here?

Good shortcut!

What would bring you to Jesup Blair Park? How can this park be an asset for Silver Spring?

Georgia Ave and Blair Rd

that old 80s colored Silver Spring sign at the Blair/Georgia comer must go (assuming it is still there) makes me feel like we live in a very uncool 80s suburb that is trying too hard....

The open area lawn in front of the house was filled with new planted trees ten years ago, ruling out a lot of open space uses.

East-West connections across the Metrorail

East-West connections: How do you cross the rail? What could be improved?

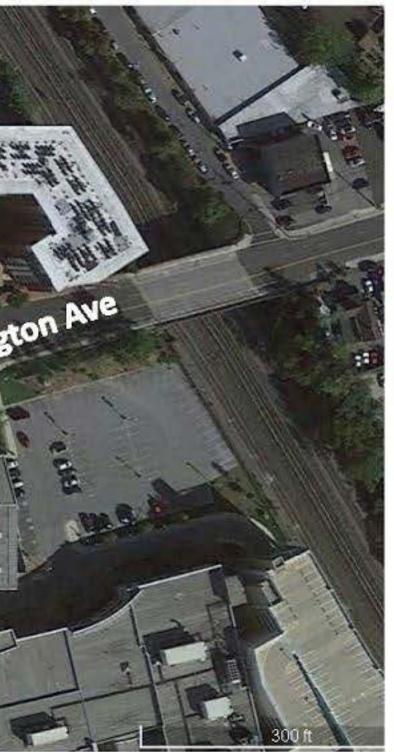

Georgia Avenue underpass is so bad, it's dark, it's narrow, it's dirty	The tunnel is just really loud and could use some better lighting and maintenance	The walkway on Georgia is narrow and I feel I pass too close to other pedestrians coming in the opposite direction. This is especially bad for scooters.	I'm used to every inch of pedestrian underpasses being completely visible from the entrance.

Garden Apartment Sites

Are these sites valued by the community?

What are the strengths of these properties (physical/ social/environmental)?

Are there changes the community would like to see to these properties?

Garden apts have value! They are more affordable housing than some of the high rises but the management companies really need to upgrade them a bit.

I don't have a strong opinion about the garden apts, people who live there seem to enjoy them and it is nice to walk through to apartments there

On Garden Apts: Friends who have lived there have complained about high electric bills because of the wall units for AC and poor insulation in the older apartments. MGMT issue?
